

Let's honour the legacy of the Second World War

As well as honouring the sacrifices, I think we also have to acknowledge the legacy of the Second World War, for better and worse.

- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5

Indeed, sometimes our national consciousness seems cornered by its great history. These old wars cast awfully long shadows. We are not yet in the sun.

Robert McCrum

The Guardian Weekly, 2013